FRANCHISE FOR JITNEYS, MOVE FAVORED BY MAYOR VISEL HERE TODAY

Would Limit Busses to Certain Streets and Running On Schedule

MAYOR WOULD FOLLOW LONG BEACH EXAMPLE

Two City Routes Inaccessible To Street Care Are Advocated

A jitney service operating over certain streets, on schedule time and under a franchise is a movement Mayor Visel would like to see inaugurated in Santa Ana.

The regulation of the jitney is claiming the attention of practically every city in California, and various methods have been adopted in efforts to place the business on lines that will make it profitable to the operators and a convenience to the public.

Long Beach has just sold a franchise to a jitney corporation which will operate eighteen busses of ten-passenger capacity. The franchise calls for service over two of the principal streets and its life is ten years. The city received $6661 for the franchise and will receive 2 per cent of the gross receipts annually. Franchises on other streets will be offered for sale.

Believe Problem Solved

By adopting this method the city officials believe they have solved the jitney problem. Under the regulation plans motor-busses are denied the privilege of operating on streets covered by a street car service.

"I believe it would be a good business move for Santa Ana to take similar action to that of the city of Long Beach," said Mayor Visel this morning.

"There are many streets in this city on which a paying business could be developed and which would prove of great convenience to residents on those streets. Regulation could be such as to guarantee a regular service and patrons could depend upon having a conveyance at certain hours of the day.

"There should be at least two routes in the city, covering those sections which are not accessible to a street car. We have only two streets here on which street car service is maintained—Main and Fourth. They are the main arteries and prohibition of jitneys on these streets would be impossible, of course.

Talks With P. E.

"Only recently I had a session with a Pacific Electric representative who wanted this city to take action in keeping the jitneys off streets traversed by the street cars. I very readily convinced him that he had a leg to stand on in support of his request. The condition obtaining in some other cities where the electric lines maintain service outside their main lines does not obtain in this city, and therefore there is no cause here for an ordinance denying motor-busses the right to traverse the streets on which the P. E. operates."

DARING BIRD WOMAN EQUALS U. S. RECORD IN LONG AIR DASH

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Ruth Bancroft Law, the smiling little American, today took her place as the premier woman aviator when she equalled the American record for cross-country flying.

She landed at Governor's Island at 9:38 a. m., having flown 850 miles from Chicago in an old-style exhibition aeroplane.

Fully exposed to the cold and wind, owing to the fact that the type of machine she drove forced her to sit out in front of her motor and without shield or protection, the plucky woman outstripped Victor Carlstrom's record for a continuous flight, made November 2 in the very newest type of machine, and then continued her journey and flew further than any woman before in history.

Numbered by cold, Miss Law was lifted from her plane by General Leonard Wood and Henry Woodhouse.

She made her last flight from Birmingham, 270 miles, through a fog. She landed with her gasoline tank practically empty.

Second Longest Flight

Miss Law's record stands as the second longest flight ever made. Her flight of 590 miles was exceeded only by that of Sub-Lieutenant Marchal of the French army, who flew from Nancy to Cholm, Poland, last June, a distance of 812.5 miles.

Immediately after landing Miss Law was lifted from her machine and it was wheeled away to stand beside another aeroplane. This latter machine, strangely enough, was the giant tractor in which Victor Carlstrom made his flight from Chicago to New York and whose record of 452 miles she shattered.

Carlstrom still is in New York. He warmly commended the woman aviator. He characterized her flight as the greatest aviation feat of the year. Augustus Post and Henry Woodhouse, Aero Club of America officials, declared that the flights of Carlstrom and Miss Law had demonstrated beyond a doubt that an air line between Chicago and New York might soon be expected.

Miss Law declared that only a shortage of gasoline prevented her from making the flight without a stop. Her machine developed no trouble.

Earl Cooper at the wheel of the powerful Stutz finished a close second. His time was 4h. 48m. and 59s., an average of 83.74 miles per hour. Patterson in a Hudson was third, 5h. 9m. and 39s. ## MANY CRAFT FOUNDER AS TIDAL WAVE HITS MEDITERRANEAN COAST

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Extraordinary weather conditions prevailing in France in 48 hours culminated in a tidal wave in the Gulf of Marseilles, on the Mediterranean coast, in which many vessels foundered, and disastrous gales on the southwest coast of the Atlantic ocean.

According to M. Angot, director of the weather bureau, the fluctuations of the barometer beat all the records of sixty years for quick changes. From 721 millimeters, which already was 39 below normal, it dropped 44 millimeters in thirty-six hours.

Snow fell heavily along the British battle front and there were heavy rains and high winds in Paris and in other parts of France.

Equal amounts of walnuts were used for two experiments, one batch being treated with the new solution and the other with the old.

The cost of the new process would be about one-half that of the chloride of lime method.

Fifty members of the Santa Ana association were present. Twenty-three associations in Southern California were represented.

All the associations separately will vote on whether or not the new process shall be adopted.

The Santa Ana association house will close up this evening. It is expected that a final settlement on this season's crop will be made to members Monday, Secretary O. H. Burke states.

U. S. Rail Control Looms as Gigantic Trade Fight Opens

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The curtain was lifted here today on one of the most dramatic industrial battles of history when the joint committee on interstate commerce started an investigation of conditions relating to interstate and foreign commerce and the necessity of further regulation along the lines of the Adamson eight-hour law, and to nearly all interstate public utilities.

Represented in the fight are commercial organizations of all kinds from all over the country as well as corporations and industries.

Capital and Labor Clash

Every influence of capital and labor will clash during the hearings.

The railroads' fight will be directed through the railway executives' advisory committee of which Frank Trumbull, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio, is the head.

The brotherhoods will have their four chiefs, Stone of the engineers, Carter of the firemen, Lee of the trainmen and Shepherd of the conductors, all of whom are now in the city ready for work.

Each side is armed with statistics supporting contentions that have been made for years.

"The public is the most interested and will be considered at this controversy," said Judge Adamson, vice chairman of the congressional committee and parent of the eight-hour law. "Both railroads and brotherhoods seem to forget that they are our servants in this matter."

Confers With Wilson

Despite efforts of the mining company to get further particulars of the arrival of the five Americans on the west coast of Mexico, company officials have been unable to get replies to five telegram tracers addressed to Supt. Hawkins who sent out the first news of their safe arrival.

TO INVITE NEUTRALS TO PEACE CONFERENCE

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The movement for peace negotiations, according to reports from "the Swiss frontier," which were printed by the Koelnische Zeitung, is about to assume definite shape in the form of a joint call from the various neutral governments to belligerents asking them to send delegates to a peace conference. The reports assert that several European neutrals are already in touch with the American government and that various belligerents have been sounded on the proposition of a conference.

According to this story the conference would necessarily open its sittings without any armistice being proclaimed, interruption of hostilities coming only after it was established that the negotiations were apt to be crowned with success.

In authoritative circles here it is stated that no facts are known upon which the Koelnische Zeitung's story could be based while it is considered not impossible that neutral governments may be considering some such step.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN SEEKS TO ABOLISH ELECTORAL COLLEGE

The committee is also empowered "to report as to the wisdom or feasibility of government ownership, and as to the comparative worth of government regulation without government ownership."

AUTOS DAMAGED IN MINOR ACCIDENTS

Damaged cars only resulted from a number of minor accidents happening in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Vernon Lee of San Diego had a dizzy ride near El Toro Saturday afternoon. He was traveling toward San Diego, and in a mix-up resulting from a car passing him from the rear, his machine turned around three times on the boulevard without upsetting.

Dr. Lee observed a car coming from the east on the boulevard leading from El Toro to the state highway and slowed down. The driver of a Maxwell car following evidently did not see the machine coming from the east and started to pass the Lee machine. In dodging the latter car the Maxwell hit Lee's Ford a glancing blow, sending it whirling around.

The Maxwell was damaged. Lee's car was brought to Santa Ana for repairs. The left front wheel was smashed, the axle twisted, the left fender bent beyond repair, and the body slightly damaged.

Harry Blackholder of Garden Grove went sailing through the air Saturday evening just after dark when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by a Huntington Beach man whose name was not ascertained. The accident happened at Garden Grove. It will cost about $20 to repair the damage to the motorcycle, and the machine driver virtually acknowledged blame, for he told Blackholder to have his machine repaired and send him the bill.

The Santa Ana-Orange P. E. car was indirectly responsible for a motorcycle and automobile coming together at the corner of Main and Santa Clara about dark last night. The names of the motorcyclist and autoist could not be secured. The street car prevented the drivers of the machines seeing each other and they collided on the intersection after passing the car.

ALLY LOSSES IN MACEDONIA ARE HEAVY, AVERS BULGARIAN STATEMENT

City's Liberation Cause of Great Joy and Satisfaction In Serb Army

ALLIES LOSE PART OF GRANDECOURT VILLAGE

Repulse of British In Somme Grapple Recounted By German War Office

LONDON, Nov. 20.—With rain and sleet interfering with the resumption of the Somme fighting, the Balkans today furnished most of the battle news.

Additional advices served to increase the brilliance of General Sarraill's French-Russian-Italian-Serbian victory in taking Monastir. It is now doubted here that the German-Bulgarian forces can completely escape from the encircling allied flanking movement.

Desperate fighting is proceeding as the allies strike closer in on the still further retreating Teutonic forces. The roads have been turned into creeks of mud and slush and will, it is believed, make it impossible for the Teutonic army to proceed with sufficient haste in its retreat to accomplish a complete withdrawal of forces and equipment.

Moreover, it appears that, far from being content with a mere occupancy of the city, the allies are still thrusting forward in a drive toward Prelop, to which the enemy withdrew, twenty-four miles to the north.

The war for the most part is raging across level ground with few natural defenses. The allied occupancy of positions along the Cerna river bend gives them a fulcrum for a lever force for clearing the plain.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—An energetic pursuit of the Teutonic-Bulgarian army retreating from Monastir is proceeding, the Serbian official statement said today.

The news of the liberating of Monastir, the ancient city of Serbian Macedonia, caused proud satisfaction and great joy in the Serbian army," said the statement.

Mrs. Tilley Hanson, a neighbor, through a window saw Mrs. Stone enveloped in flames and tried to rescue her, but was unable to get into the room. When the firemen arrived and broke into the house, Mrs. Stone was dead. She had lived in San Pedro in the same house for about twenty years and had no relatives. The damage to the house amounted to about $750.

FRANCHISE FOR JITNEYS, MOVE FAVORED BY MAYOR VISEL HERE TODAY

Would Limit Busses to Certain Streets and Running On Schedule

MAYOR WOULD FOLLOW LONG BEACH EXAMPLE

Two City Routes Inaccessible To Street Cars Are Advocated

A jitney service operating over certain streets, on schedule time and under a franchise is a movement Mayor Visel would like to see inaugurated in Santa Ana.

The regulation of the jitney is claiming the attention of practically every city in California, and various methods have been adopted in efforts to place the business on lines that will make it profitable to the operators and a convenience to the public.

Long Beach has just sold a franchise to a jitney corporation which will operate eighteen busses of ten-passenger capacity. The franchise calls for service over two of the principal streets and its life is ten years. The city received $6661 for the franchise and will receive 2 per cent of the gross receipts annually. Franchises on other streets will be offered for sale.

By adopting this method the city officials believe they have solved the jitney problem. Under the regulation plans motor-busses are denied the privilege of operating on streets covered by a street car service.

ARGUMENT IN GERMAN OFFICER'S DYNAMITING CASE IS ADVANCED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The supreme court today granted a motion to advance argument in the case of Werner Horn, alleged dynamiter and German army officer. Horn is accused of trying to blow up the Canadian International bridge across the Canadian boundary line in Maine. He asked a writ of habeas corpus, claiming that the offense charged against him is of a military character and one for which he cannot be tried in ordinary courts. The court assigned the case for argument January 8th.

MANY CRAFT FOUNDER AS TIDAL WAVE HITS MEDITERRANEAN COAST

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Extraordinary weather conditions prevailing in France in 48 hours culminated in a tidal wave in the Gulf of Marseilles, on the Mediterranean coast, in which many vessels foundered, and disastrous gales on the southwest coast of the Atlantic ocean.

According to M. Angot, director of the weather bureau, the fluctuations of the barometer beat all the records of sixty years for quick changes. From 721 millimeters, which already was 39 below normal, it dropped 44 millimeters in thirty-six hours.

Snow fell heavily along the British battle front and there were heavy rains and high winds in Paris on din other parts of France.

In Marseilles all the cabins on Catalan Beach were carried away and the high waves inundated Corinche road, stopping street car traffic.

The storm beat all records for twenty years on the Mediterranean coast.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—An appeal to the bar of the United States, a great neutral nation, to aid in defining international law and right in such terms that world peace might be maintained, was made by Sir Robert Laird Borden, Premier of Canada, in an address at a luncheon given in his honor at the Lawyers' Club here. The peace which the Entente allies seek, Sir Robert added, departing from his prepared speech, is an abiding one, and not an inconclusive one. The club elected the Premier as an honorary life member.

BLEACH TEST IS WATCHED BY WALNUT MEN

Association Members Express Selves As Pleased With New Process

Expressions of satisfaction were heard at the packing house of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers Association on East Fourth street today, following the testing of a new bleaching material which may be adopted by all the Southern California associations to take the place of the chloride of lime process now in use.

Equal amounts of walnuts were used for two experiments, one batch being treated with the new solution and the other with the old.

The cost of the new process would be about one-half that of the chloride of lime method.

Fifty members of the Santa Ana association were present. Twenty-three associations in Southern California were represented.

All the associations separately will vote on whether or not the new process shall be adopted.

The Santa Ana association house will close up this evening. It is expected that a final settlement on this season's crop will be made to members Monday, Secretary O. H. Burke states.

ISSUES ORDER MAKING CALIF. GUARDS 'DRY'

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—An order making the California National Guard a dry organization has been issued by Col. J. J. Borree, acting adjutant-general.

The edict, according to Col. Borree, will be enforced to the letter, and is designed to remove any possibility of associating liquor with the state military service. The order was as follows:

"Beginning December 1, 1916, the bringing to or use of intoxicating liquor in armories, owned or leased by the state and on target ranges owned or leased by the state is strictly prohibited.

"Officers and enlisted men of the National Guard and naval militia in uniform are prohibited from entering saloons where intoxicating liquors are sold.

"Charges will be preferred against any officer or enlisted man violating this order.

"This order will be read to the organization of the National Guard and naval militia at each drill period during November and December, 1916. A copy of this order will be placed on the company bulletin board."

U. S. Rail Control Looms as Gigantic Trade Fight Opens

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The curtain was lifted here today on one of the most dramatic industrial battles of history when the joint committee on interstate commerce started an investigation of conditions relating to interstate and foreign commerce and the necessity of further regulation along the lines of the Adamson eight-hour law, and to nearly all interstate public utilities.

Represented in the fight are commercial organizations of all kinds from all over the country as well as corporations and industries.

Capital and Labor Clash
Every influence of capital and labor will clash during the hearings.

The railroads' fight will be directed through the railway executives' advisory committee of which Frank Trumbull, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio, is the head.

The brotherhoods will have their four chiefs, Stone of the engineers, Carter of the firemen, Lee of the trainmen and Shepherd of the conductors, all of whom are now in the city ready for work.

Each side is armed with statistics supporting contentions that have been made for years.

"The public is the most interested and will be considered at this controversy," said Judge Adamson, vice chairman of the congressional committee and parent of the eight-hour law. "Both railroads and brotherhoods seem to forget that they are our servants in this matter."

Confers With Wilson
During the day Judge Adamson will confer with President Wilson on the question of putting through Congress legislation the President has proposed for the settlement and prevention of industrial disputes.

EL PASO, Nov. 20.—Refugees arriving from Chihuahua city today brought the news that General Trevino has marched his army out of the city and is preparing a campaign against Villa. Yankees Reported Safe
EL PASO, Nov. 20.—A semi-official report wired from the Carranzista headquarters at Chihuahua City today stated that all Americans in Parral had fled the town upon the advice of General Luis Herrera, Carranzista commander there.

Other and conflicting reports are reaching the border concerning the fate of the other five Americans who did not leave with the party of Alvarado mining men.

Despite efforts of the mining company to get further particulars of the arrival of the five Americans on the west coast of Mexico, company officials have been unable to get replies to five telegram tracers addressed to Supt. Hawkins who sent out the first news of their safe arrival.

TO INVITE NEUTRALS TO PEACE CONFERENCE
BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The movement for peace negotiations, according to reports from "the Swiss frontier" which were printed by the Koelnische Zeitung, is about to assume definite shape in the form of a joint call from the various neutral governments to belligerents asking them to send delegates to a peace conference. The reports assert that several European neutrals are already in touch with the American government and that various belligerents have been sounded on the proposition of a conference.

According to this story the conference would necessarily open its sittings without any armistice being proclaimed, interruption of hostilities coming only after it was established that the negotiations were apt to be crowned with success.

In authoritative circles here it is stated that no facts are known upon which the Koelnische Zeitung's story could be based while it is considered impossible that neutral governments may be considering some such step.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN SEEKS TO ABOLISH ELECTORAL COLLEGE

The committee is also empowered "to report as to the wisdom or feasibility of government ownership, and as to the comparative worth of government regulation without government ownership."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Wilson will confer with the following railroad brotherhood leaders: W. F. Stone, A. G. Lee, W. S. Carter and L. E. Shepherd, at the White House at 5:45 p. m. today.

AUTOS DAMAGED IN MINOR ACCIDENTS

Damaged cars only resulted from a number of minor accidents happening in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Vernon Lee of San Diego had a dizzy ride near El Toro Saturday afternoon. He was traveling toward San Diego, and in a mix-up resulting from a car passing him from the rear, his machine turned around three times on the boulevard without upsetting.

Dr. Lee observed a car coming from the east on the boulevard leading from El Toro to the state highway and slowed down. The driver of a Maxwell car following evidently did not see the machine coming from the east and started to pass the Lee machine. In dodging the latter car the Maxwell hit Lee's Ford a glancing blow, sending it whirling around.

The Maxwell was damaged. Lee's car was brought to Santa Ana for repairs. The left front wheel was smashed, the axle twisted, the left fender bent beyond repair, and the body slightly damaged.

Harry Blacholder of Garden Grove went sailing through the air Saturday evening just after dark when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by a Huntington Beach man whose name was not ascertained. The accident happened at Garden Grove. It will cost about $20 to repair the damage to the motorcycle, and the machine driver virtually acknowledged blame, for he told Blacholder to have his machine repaired and send him the bill.

The Santa Ana-Orange P. E. car was indirectly responsible for a motorcycle and automobile coming together at the corner of Main and Santa Clara about dark last night. The names of the motorcyclist and autoist could not be secured. The street car prevented the drivers of the machines seeing each other and they collided on the intersection after passing the car.

When the firemen arrived and broke into the house, Mrs. Stone was dead. She had lived in San Pedro in the same house for about twenty years and had no relatives. The damage to the house amounted to about $750.

ALLY LOSSES IN MACEDONIA ARE HEAVY, AVERS BULGARIAN STATEMENT

City's Liberation Cause of Great Joy and Satisfaction In Serb Army

ALLIES LOSE PART OF GRANDCOURT VILLAGE

Repulse of British In Somme Grapple Recounted By German War Office

LONDON, Nov. 20.—With rain and sleet interfering with the resumption of the Somme fighting, the Balkans today furnished most of the battle news.

Additional advices served to increase the brilliance of General Sarail's French-Russian-Italian-Serbian victory in taking Monastir.

It is now doubted here that the German-Bulgarian forces can completely escape from the encircling allied flanking movement.

Desperate fighting is proceeding as the allies strike closer in on the still further retreating Teutonic forces. The roads have been turned into creeks of mud and slush and will, it is believed, make it impossible for the Teutonic armies to proceed with sufficient haste in its retreat to accomplish a complete withdrawal of forces and equipment.

Moreover, it appears that, far from being content with a mere occupancy of the city, the allies are still thrusting forward in a drive toward Prelop, to which the enemy withdrew, twenty-four miles to the north.

The war for the most part is raging across level ground with few natural defenses.

The allied occupancy of positions along the Corna river bend gives them a fulcrum for a lever force for clearing the plain.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—An energetic pursuit of the Teutonic-Bulgarian army retreating from Monastir is proceeding, the Serbian-official statement said today.

The news of the liberating of Monastir, the ancient city of Serbian Macedonia, caused proud satisfaction and great joy in the Serbian army," said the statement.

City subscribers of the Register were somewhat late in getting their papers Saturday evening, but the delay was more than compensated for because of the fact that the edition carried the results of the Santa Monica Grand Prize race, as well as the results, with a comprehensive account of the game of the championship football contest between the Santa Ana Polytechnic and Pasadena high schools.

Considerably less than a half hour after the football game was over the Register's five o'clock edition, with the stories of the football and racing contests were being sold on the streets.

The efficiency of the Register's delivery service is indicated by the fact that the subscribers on the longest delivery route had all been served with their copies of the late edition by 6:40 p. m.

The five o'clock edition was served to the greater part of the Register's subscribers, only the out-of-town subscribers who are reached by mail, not getting the race and football results. The latter subscribers, however, were given the news of the auto race up to the thirtieth lap.

Young Men Tell of Splendid Work Organization Is Doing In the County

The evening services at the First Baptist Church were handled last evening by a deputation team of young men from the County Y. M. C. A.

R. G. Cole, secretary of the Orange county work, was in charge of the team and spoke on the needs of boys and the way those needs were being met in this county. He showed that the teen age was the decision-forming age and yet usually the most neglected age. He sketched briefly the plans and work of the county organization and with the use of a blackboard map showed the way it now touches and contributes to the boy life of nearly every community of any size in the county.

Glen Tidball, one of the Santa Ana leaders, told of the Club work in Santa Ana and showed how without equipment 100 leading boys and young men were being definitely helped by the work. He emphasized the fact that Santa Ana by being so centrally located was in a position to be of great service to the twenty-eight Y. M. C. A. Clubs of the county by offering a meeting point for conferences, county banquets, track meets and get-togethers.

Waldo Tournet of Garden Grove explained the work as it has been carried on there for the last nine years. He said that it has been there long enough to show very definite results in the lives of the young men of the community who had gone to College and made good or were better citizens because of the influence of this work upon their lives. He told of the work carried on now whereby about twenty-four boys and young men meet each week for Bible study, club activities and games.

William Cole of the Santa Ana High School told of the Summer Camp and showed the ways it contributed to the character of the boys who attend.

So enthusiastic was the reception given the young men that on motion of Judge West from the floor of the assembly room, a vote of thanks for the splendid service was unanimously extended the team. This is only the first of a series of such meetings which will be conducted over the county in the interest of the work with boys and young men.

DRIVE DODGE CAR FROM DENVER TO SANTA ANA

E. W. S. Nash, wife and son, Charles D. Nash, arrived here yesterday by automobile from Denver, Colo., to spend the winter. They are guests at the home of A. M. Andrews, 440 South Sycamore, the families being old friends.

The party traveled in a Dodge Brothers Touring car and made a splendid record. Fortune favored them in a measure, for streams which they had to cross happened to be at low ebb at the time of their arrival at the crossing points. They experienced no trouble whatever in negotiating the trip with the sturdy little car and averaged better than twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline.

They toured the state on the way here and during their stay in Santa Ana will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit every section of the Southland.

PICTURES LIVES OF DAVID AND
OUTLAW ZONA

Spurgeon Memorial Church
Crowded by Those Who Heard Al Jennings and
W. S. Hart

"I am master of my fate;
I am captain of my soul."

With the Spurgeon Memorial church crowded to its utmost capacity and scores of people turned away because they could not get a place to stand to see and hear, the week's revival being conducted by Al Jennings, ex-bandit, ex-convict, began yesterday morning. An audience of equal dimensions filled the church to overflowing last night.

It was a unique service. People of Santa Ana saw a man who had been a robber-outlaw introduced by a famous moving picture actor, William S. Hart, and the thing took place in a church as part of a revival that members of the South Methodist church believe will result in great good.

William S. Hart, known to moviegoers, was easily picked out from among those who sat behind the pulpit last night. His raw-boned, frontier-like figure was in strange contrast to the slight-built man, his friend, once a terror in Oklahoma.

Song Service
The singing of the old hymns that have endeared themselves to two generations of church-goers in an entirely new and most effective way, is one of the innovations that was introduced last night by Charles Rykert, who has charge of the musical features of the Jennings revival meetings. Rykert, a protege of Moody, of beloved memory, has a base voice of great clarity and deep religious fervor. His solos at both the morning and evening services held the audience in a noticeable spell. The regular choir of the Spurgeon Memorial church has been augmented to thirty-five voices and has been drilled into such shape that the music is bound to be one of the strong features of the meetings.

Following the song service and prayer by Rev. A. T. O'Leary, South Methodist pastor, Hart arose, and dramatically spoke the verse ending "I am captain of my soul" that he declared fitted the life of Al Jennings in beating back from crime to a life of usefulness and righteousness.

Briefly but forcefully, Hart depicted something of the struggles of Al Jennings against odds.

Strange Contrast
The contrast between the appearance of the two men, Hart and Jennings, was but a shadow to the contrast between the circumstances of their first meeting and the circumstances of the appearance together in Santa Ana last night.

Jennings told the story of their first meeting when Hart, while quail hunting, happened upon Jennings' outlaw camp. Hart was fed. He gave the outlaws passes to a theater, and that night the bandits rode into town and sat in the front row of the theater.

David, the Biblical outlaw and shepherd king of Israel, and Zona, the dedicated killer in Al Jennings' band of outlaws, were the two figures on which Jennings last night built a sermon that for virility and intensity will take its place as one of the best ever heard in this city. His visualization of David brought that age-old character down to flesh and blood and instead of leaving him a mystery enshrouded Biblical hero brought him back to life.

One could almost see the shepherd boy herding his sheep along the reaches of the Rio Grande or in some nearby valley of California. David's vices and David's woes and his final elevation to the throne of Israel were made real vital, modern facts.

Contrasts Lives
When he talked of the shepherd king's stealing of Uriah's wife he did it in a way that one would describe a modern misdeed of a like character. He paralleled the two characters, pointing out the lovable, human traits in Zona, who, while lovable, would kill a man without the slightest compunction, and the contradictions in the character of David, who on the one hand caused the death of Uriah that his theft of his wife might not be known and on the other gave voice to his hunger for God's grace in language that has never been equalled by man.

Zona's tragic death, with the tintype of his mother crumpled in his hand, brought tears to many an eye in the church. David's lament over the death of Saul furnished Jennings with another wonderful opportunity for description.

"Zona died an outlaw because he didn't have time to humble himself before God and ask His forgiveness," said Jennings. "How many of us are going to let this matter of humbling ourselves to God go too long and then miss our last opportunity? King David knew he had erred; he knew he had sinned, but he humbled himself and in his psalms we have the soul picture of the most contrite human being in all history."

"The Voice in the Choir" is the subject of Jennings' sermon tonight. In this address, Jennings will deal with the story of a girl who was sentenced to life imprisonment at the Ohio penitentiary, to which Jennings was sentenced for a life and where he served four and a half years. The services each night this week will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

PINNED UNDER AUTO. COOPER IS INJURED

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Raymond S. Cooper was painfully hurt and Mrs. Cooper slightly injured when their automobile struck a wagon Thursday night on the Olive-Anaheim boulevard, about a mile east of the Olive bridge.

Cooper, who is employed at the Morrison slaughter house here, was driving west when the wagon turned into the boulevard from a side road. It is said that there was no light on the wagon. The automobile struck it and was overturned, pinning Cooper underneath.

With a bad cut on his chin and a deep gash in his left arm, Cooper was picked up and with his wife was rushed to the Anaheim sanitarium where their wounds were dressed. Later they were taken to the home of Mrs. Cooper's parents in Anaheim.

ZIMMERMAN RANCH AT TULARE IS SOLD

TULARE, Nov. 20.—P. F. Wood of Los Angeles has bought from W. A. Zimmerman of Santa Ana a tract of 495 acres of improved land in the Waukena district, south of here. The consideration was not given. The new owner expects to stock the place with pure-bred dairy cattle.

THIS picture shows Al Jennings, former bandit, now an evangelist, seated upon the white horse that was ridden by Jennings throughout his days of outlawry. The horse is still in Woodward, Okla.

Y. M. C. A. TEAM HAS SERVICES

Young Men Tell of Splendid Work Organization Is Doing In the County

The evening services at the First Baptist Church were handled last evening by a deputation team of young men from the County Y. M. C. A.

R. G. Cole, secretary of the Orange county work, was in charge of the team and spoke on the needs of boys and the way those needs were being met in this county. He showed that the teen age was the decision-forming age and yet usually the most neglected age. He sketched briefly the plans and work of the county organization and with the use of a blackboard map showed the way it now touches and contributes to the boy life of nearly every community of any size in the county.

Glen Tidball, one of the Santa Ana leaders, told of the Club work in Santa Ana and showed how without equipment and leading boys and young men were being definitely helped by the work. He emphasized the fact that Santa Ana by being so centrally located was in a position to be of great service to the twenty-eight Y. M. C. A. Clubs of the county by offering a meeting point for conferences, county banquets, track meets and get-togethers.

Waldo Tournot of Garden Grove explained the work as it has been carried on there for the last nine years. He said that it has been there long enough to show very definite results in the lives of the young men of the community who had gone to College and made good or were better citizens because of the influence of this work upon their lives. He told of the work carried on now whereby about twenty-four boys and young men meet each week for Bible study, club activities and games.

William Cole of the Santa Ana High School told of the Summer Camp and showed the ways it contributed to the character of the boys who attend.

So enthusiastic was the reception given the young men that on motion of Judge West from the floor of the assembly room, a vote of thanks for the splendid service was unanimously extended the team. This is only the first of a series of such meetings which will be conducted over the county in the interest of the work with boys and young men.

DRIVE DODGE CAR FROM DENVER TO SANTA ANA

E. W. S. Nash, wife and son, Charles B. Nash, arrived here yesterday by automobile from Denver, Colo., to spend the winter. They are guests at the home of A. M. Andrews, 440 South Sycamore, the families being old friends.

The party traveled in a Dodge Brothers Touring car and made a splendid record. Fortune favored them in a measure, for streams which they had to cross happened to be at low ebb at the time of their arrival at the crossing points. They experienced no trouble whatever in negotiating the trip with the sturdy little car and averaged better than twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline.

They toured the state on the way here and during their stay in Santa Ana will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit every section of the Southland.

PICTURES LIVES OF DAVID AND OUTLAW ZONA

Spurgeon Memorial Church Crowded by Those Who Heard Al Jennings and W. S. Hart

"I am master of my fate; I am captain of my soul."

With the Spurgeon Memorial church crowded to its utmost capacity and scores of people turned away because they could not get a place to stand to see and hear, the week's revival being conducted by Al Jennings, ex-bandit, ex-convict, began yesterday morning. An audience of equal dimensions filled the church to over-flowing last night.

It was an unique service. People of Santa Ana saw a man who had been a robber-outlaw introduced by a famous moving picture actor, William S. Hart, and the thing took place in a church as part of a revival that members of the South Methodist church believe will result in great good.

William S. Hart, known to moviegoers, was easily picked out from among those who sat behind the pulpit last night. His raw-boned, frontier-like figure was in strange contrast to the slight-built man, his friend, once a terror in Oklahoma.

Song Service
The singing of the old hymns that have endeared themselves to two generations of church-goers in an entirely new and most effective way is one of the innovations that was introduced last night by Charles Rykert, who has charge of the musical features of the Jennings revival meetings. Rykert, a protege of Moody, of beloved memory, has a base voice of great clarity and deep religious fervor. His solos at both the morning and evening services held the audience in a noticeable spell.

The regular choir of the Spurgeon Memorial church has been augmented to thirty-five voices and has been drilled into such shape that the music is bound to be one of the strong features of the meetings.

Following the song service and prayer by Rev. A. T. O'Rear, South Methodist pastor, Hart arose, and dramatically spoke the verse ending "I am captain of my soul" that he declared fitted the life of Al Jennings in beating back from crime to a life of usefulness and righteousness.

Briefly but forcefully, Hart depicted something of the struggles of Al Jennings against odds.

Strange Contrast
The contrast between the appearance of the two men, Hart and Jennings, was but a shadow to the contrast between the circumstances of their first meeting and the circumstances of the appearance together in Santa Ana last night.

Jennings told the story of their first meeting when Hart, while quail hunting, happened upon Jennings' outlaw camp. Hart was fed. He gave the outlaws passes to a theater, and that night the bandits rode into town and sat in the front row of the theater.

David, the Biblical outlaw and shepherd king of Israel, and Zona, the deadliest killer in Al Jennings' band of outlaws, were the two figures on which Jennings last night built a sermon that for virility and intensity will take its place as one of the best ever heard in this city. His visualization of David brought that age-old character down to flesh and blood and instead of leaving him a mystery enshrouded Biblical hero brought him back to life.

One could almost see the shepherd boy herding his sheep along the reaches of the Rio Grande or in some nearby valley of California. David's vices and David's woes and his final elevation to the throne of Israel were made real vital, modern facts.

Contrasts Lives
When he talked of the shepherd king's stealing of Uriah's wife he did it in a way that one would describe a modern misdeed of a like character. He paralleled the two characters, pointing out the lovable, human traits in Zona, who, while lovable, would kill a man without the slightest compunction, and the contradictions in the character of David, who on the one hand caused the death of Uriah that his theft of his wife might not be

PASADENA BOYS STEAL LANTERN. INTERVIEW OFFICERS

Youths Come to Football Game on Motorcycle, and Get in Peck of Trouble

A lantern and a blind street formed a combination which brought two Pasadena boys into the hands of local officers Saturday evening.

Robert Putnam and Lewis Fennell came over from the Crown City on a motorcycle to witness the football game between the Pasadena and Santa Ana high school teams. They tarried here until nearly dark. They had no light for their machine. Riding along a street leading out of the city they spied a lantern used by Tom Stark in his fumigation business. The boys annexed the lantern for protection on their way home. The act was witnessed by an employee of Stark, who called to them to drop the lantern. The boy handling the machine opened the throttle a little wider and sped away. The boys were on a blind street and when they came to the end had to turn around and go back over the same route. Stark's man was waiting for them and halted them. They tried to get away and in the scuffle that followed the lantern was broken. Stark arrived on the scene about this time. He brought the boys to the city hall. They had only $1 between them.

Their promise to reimburse the fumigator for the loss of the lantern, the boys were permitted to retain the money they had so that they might purchase a lantern for use on the way home.

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—The California Breakfast Food Company, manufacturers of Fig-Nut and several other cereal products, has accepted a proposition for moving their plant to Orange. The company will occupy the old Modern Mfg. Co. building on West Chapman. L. M. Heimer, president of the company, stated that the new location will enable the company to greatly increase its output, and he expects to turn out from 500 to 1000 cases a day. The plant will be moved here as soon as the building can be fitted up and the machinery installed.

PASADENA WINNER OVER POLY 26 TO 3

By a score of 26 to 3, Pasadena High School humbled the Santa Ana High School here Saturday afternoon and won the championship of the County League of Southern California. Pasadena played a tremendous and lunging game, outclassed Santa Ana, though the Crown City warriors got two of their touchdowns on misplays.

Santa Ana was caught in a slump and was unavailing to stem the splendid interference and speed shown by the visitors.

Chisholm for Pasadena played a terrific and consistent game at full.

Horrell, Pasadena center, and Stewart, who played center for Santa Ana on defense and full on offense, staged one of the hardest individual contests of the game, Stewart coming out ahead, according to the Santa Ana fans.

Santa Ana started out strong but the attack by the Pasadena men proved too strong for the Cardinal and White.

Santa Ana staged a rally in the last five minutes of play and was within striking distance of a touchdown when the game ended.

The line-up:

S. H. OVERACKER HERE, FREED LAST JANUARY

S. H. Overacker, who is on parole from Folsom, was in Santa Ana today. Overacker was sentenced to Folsom for the killing of his neighbor, G. A. Winn, at Newhope. ## BEUTINGER SLAYING AGAIN TO BE TOLD

Murderess of 'Lustful Brute' Husband to Go to Trial Second Time

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 20.—"It was a case of the abuse of the birthright of a woman to defend her life at any cost. I now feel that nothing can stand in the way of my being cleared."

Going to trial today for the second time for the murder of her "lustful brute" husband, Christopher, Mrs. Margaret Clare Beutinger, mother of five pretty babies, made the above statement, the first sentence referring to the failure of the first jury to acquit her.

As at the first trial, she will testify that she shot in self defense when her husband persisted in trying to force sex upon her after she declared she could not be his wife.

The little woman will repeat the whole sordid story, reciting how he beat her frequently during their married life. She will tell of the many distressing experiences she suffered at his hands as they journeyed from her home in Jamaica, W. I., to San Francisco, the Philippines, thence to Siberia and afterward to Europe.

S. A. V. I. CO. WORKS BIG CREW OF MEN

The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company today began work on a ditch line, and is employing 150 men.

The S. A. V. I. has been making improvements in its system as rapidly as its finances will permit. This is one of the biggest undertakings for several years. The work will include a change of a half-mile of open ditch to pipeline. Experience has proven that the pipe line is more satisfactory than the open ditch, as the accumulation of debris often seriously hampers the flow of water where the ditch is open, necessitating great inconvenience to irrigators.

At the present time the company has 120 miles of pipeline and is furnishing water co-operatively to 2241 consumers, irrigating more than 17,000 acres of land.

FIND STOLEN HORSE BUT PRISONER AND WITNESS ARE GONE

Deputy Sheriffs Cravath and Fowler went to Elsinore yesterday to get a man that was supposed to have stolen a $150 horse from near Brea. Saturday night a deputy sheriff at Elsinore had told Cravath that the horse was in a stable, the man they thought had stolen it was locked in jail by the city marshal, and the man who knew the horse was stolen was being held as a witness.

When Cravath and Fowler arrived in Elsinore they could find no deputy sheriff, no city marshal, no witness. They found a boy who pointed the jail out to them. Cravath called out lustily, but got no answer.

"Nobody home," says Cravath. Fowler and Cravath lifted the boy up, and he peered in the window.

"Nobody home," says the boy. At the lively stable, however, the horse was found, and the livierman volunteered the information that the officers concluded that the man who had the horse was innocent because he got it for $80 from a man at Corona who bought it at auction. Anyhow, the officers turned the prisoner loose, and they went hunting quail.

STANDARD EIGHT HOUR LAW OPENS UP JOB INCREASE

FULLERTON, Nov. 20.—The Standard Oil company order granting an eight-hour day for drillers, tool dressers and other employees means work for more men in the Fullerton fields. For years these employees have been working in twelve-hour shifts, but from now on the forces will work in eight-hour shifts.

It also means a big increase in the pay roll in the local fields, as the Standard employs more than 200 men here and has a pay roll above $20,000 a month.

This company has cemented well No. 27 on the Emery lease, drilling is progressing in the hole on the McNally lease and rigs are going up for two more wells on the Murphy lease.

PASADENA BOYS STEAL LANTERN. INTERVIEW OFFICERS

Youths Come to Football Game on Motorcycle, and Get in Peck of Trouble

A lantern and a blind street formed a combination which brought two Pasadena boys into the hands of local officers Saturday evening.

Robert Putnam and Lewis Fennell came over from the Crown City on a motorcycle to witness the football game between the Pasadena and Santa Ana high school teams. They tarried here until nearly dark. Riding along a street leading out of the city they spied a lantern used by Tom Stark in his fumigation business. The boys annexed the lantern for protection on their way home. The act was witnessed by an employee of Stark, who called to them to drop the lantern. The boy handling the machine opened the throttle a little wider and sped away. The boys were on a blind street and when they came to the end had to turn around and go back over the same route. Stark's man was waiting for them and halted them. They tried to get away and in the scuffle that followed the lantern was broken.

Stark arrived on the scene about this time. He brought the boys to the city hall. They had only $1 between them.

Their promise to reimburse the fumigator for the loss of the lantern, he pays were permitted to retain the money they had so that they might purchase a lantern for use on the way home.

BREAKFAST FOOD MAKERS ACCEPT ORANGE LOCATION

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—The California Breakfast Food Company, manufacturers of Fig-Nut and several other cereal products, has accepted a proposition for moving their plant to Orange. The company will occupy the old Modern Mfg. Co. building on West Chapman. L. M. Helmer, president of the company, stated that the new location will enable the company to greatly increase its output, and he expects to turn out from 500 to 1000 cases a day. The plant will be moved here as soon as the building can be fitted up and the machinery installed.

PASADENA WINNER OVER POLY 26 TO 3

By a score of 26 to 3, Pasadena High School humbled the Santa Ana High School here Saturday afternoon and won the championship of the County League of Southern California. Pasadena played a tremendous and lunging game, outclassed Santa Ana, though the Crown City warriors got two of their touchdowns on misplays.

Santa Ana was caught in a slump and was unavailing to stem the splendid interference and speed shown by the visitors.

Chisholm for Pasadena played a terrific and consistent game at full.

Horrell, Pasadena center, and Stewart, who played center for Santa Ana on defense and full on offense, staged one of the hardest individual contests of the game, Stewart coming out ahead, according to the Santa Ana fans.

Santa Ana started out strong but the attack by the Pasadena men proved too strong for the Cardinal and White.

Santa Ana staged a rally in the last five minutes of play and was within striking distance of a touchdown when the game ended.

The line-up:
Pasadena: Davis, Corey, Ash, Cline, Horrell, Von Mohr, Goodale, DeHuff, Shlandeman, Culbertson, L.H. Burton, Wilkie, Elliott.
Referee, Irving; umpire, Leonard; head linesman, Easton.

S. H. OVERACKER HERE, FREED LAST JANUARY

S. H. Overacker, who is on parole from Folsom, was in Santa Ana today. Overacker was sentenced to Folsom for the killing of his neighbor, G. A. Winn, at Newhope. The two men had a quarrel over waste water that ran down from Overacker's land on to Winn's land, and Winn was shot by Overacker with a rifle. Overacker secured parole last January, and last June he and his wife moved to Huntington Beach, where they now live.

BEUTINGER SLAYING AGAIN TO BE TOLD

Murderess of 'Lustful Brute' Husband to Go to Trial Second Time

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 20.—It was a case of the abuse of the birthright of a woman to defend her life at any cost. I now feel that nothing can stand in the way of my being cleared.

Going to trial today for the second time for the murder of her "lustful brute" husband, Christopher, Mrs. Margaret Clare Beutinger, mother of five pretty babies, made the above statement, the first sentence referring to the failure of the first jury to acquit her.

As at the first trial, she will testify that she shot in self defense when her husband persisted in trying to force himself upon her after she declared she could not be his wife.

The little woman will repeat the whole sordid story, reciting how he beat her frequently during their married life. She will tell of the many distressing experiences she suffered at his hands as they journeyed from her home in Jamaica, W. I., to San Francisco, the Philippines, thence to Siberia and afterward to Europe.

LOCAL PEOPLE TO PLANT LARGE ACREAGE TO FIGS

McCarters Will Improve 160-Acre Ranch Near Fresno by Setting of Smyrna Figs

A 160-acre Smyrna fig orchard at Fresno will occupy the attention of several Santa Ana people for the next few years.

Members of the T. J. McCarter family of this city recently acquired this acreage near Fresno and T. R. and Irvine McCarter have been there for the last month making preparation for the extensive work to be undertaken.

This morning Albert and E. L. McCarter and Fred Binkley and wife departed for Fresno by automobile, while T. J. McCarter, father of the McCarter boys and Mrs. Binkley, left by train with a carload of stock and household goods. While the latter is interested in the project he will not remain there, his sons and son-in-law taking entire charge of the task of converting 160 acres of raw land into a fig orchard.

S. A. V. I. CO. WORKS BIG CREW OF MEN

The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company today began work on a ditch line, and is employing 150 men.

The S. A. V. I. has been making improvements in its system as rapidly as its finances will permit. This is one of the biggest undertakings for several years. The work will include a change of a half-mile of open ditch to pipeline. Experience has proven that the pipe line is more satisfactory than the open ditch, as the accumulation of debris often seriously hampers the flow of water where the ditch is open, necessitating great inconvenience to irrigators.

At the present time the company has 120 miles of pipeline and is furnishing water co-operatively to 2241 consumers, irrigating more than 17,000 acres of land.

FIND STOLEN HORSE BUT PRISONER AND WITNESS ARE GONE

Deputy Sheriffs Cravath and Fowler went to Elsinore yesterday to get a man that was supposed to have stolen a $150 horse from near Brea. Saturday night a deputy sheriff at Elsinore had told Cravath that the horse was in a stable, the man they thought had stolen it was locked in jail by the city marshal, and the man who knew the horse was stolen was being held as a witness.

When Cravath and Fowler arrived in Elsinore they could find no deputy sheriff, no city marshal, no witness. They found a boy who pointed the jail out to them. Cravath called out lustily, but got no answer.

"Nobody home," says Cravath. Fowler and Cravath lifted the boy up, and he peered in the window.

At the livery stable, however, the horse was found, and the liveryman volunteered the information that the officers concluded that the man who had the horse was innocent because he got it for $60 from a man at Corona who bought it at auction.

Anyhow, the officers turned the prisoner loose, and they went hunting quail.

STANDARD EIGHT HOUR LAW OPENS UP JOB INCREASE

FULLERTON, Nov. 20.—The Standard Oil company order granting an eight-hour day for drillers, tool dressers and other employees means work for more men in the Fullerton fields. For years, these employees have been working in twelve-hour shifts, but from now on the forces will work in eight-hour shifts.

It also means a big increase in the pay roll in the local fields, as the Standard employs more than 200 men here and has a pay roll above $20,000 a month.

This company has cemented well No. 27 on the Emery lease, drilling is progressing in the hole on the McNally lease and rigs are going up for two more wells on the Murphy lease.

CAN'T BE DONE? HUH!

The Register's editorial, Saturday, endorsing J. S. Smart's proposal that a $50,000 fund be raised for the purpose of securing manufacturing industries for Santa Ana, has drawn from a pessimistic reader the doleful declaration—"It can't be done."

Whether a thing can or cannot be done depends very much on "how bad we want to do it." Of course that isn't very good grammar; but when the kid tells you "how bad" he wants to go to the football game he generally gets the price.

How had do we want to raise that $50,000?

As bad as Marconi wanted to invent the wireless?

As bad as Edison wanted to invent the phonograph?

It sounds silly to say a thing like raising that $50,000 can't be done.

Didn't President Wilson talk across mountains, seas and continents to the Emperor of China the other day?

Can't you sit in your office or your home and hear your friend's voice at the other end of the telephone line in New York? Yes, through the phonograph you can even hear his voice from the grave. Time and space have been annihilated.

Didn't a young woman of Chicago fly over six hundred miles yesterday without stopping?

Can't be done!

Perhaps it WON'T be done; but it CAN be done just as easy as rolling off a real round log.

THAT "WOMAN VOTE"

The enigma of the campaign, "the woman vote," has proved not to be an enigma at all. There simply was not any "woman vote." The "four million women," or whatever their number amounted to, voted just about like other citizens.

It cannot be said that the women cast their ballots precisely as the men did, but the differences were such that they evidently had practically no effect on the national result and little effect on local results. Instead of sex solidarity, there was family solidarity—naturally. When the men of a family generally vote the same ticket, why shouldn't the women, too?

Such differences as were revealed are interesting from a purely human standpoint. Certain observers have remarked with surprise that the women in Illinois and other new-suffrage states voted not only as the men did, but a little more so. That is, where the male vote went Republican, the female vote went still more Republican; and where the Democratic ticket got a majority of the men's votes it got a still greater majority of the women's votes. But why should there be any surprise about that?

Women are less disposed than men to break away from their family tradition. They are naturally more conservative and more given to following authority. Also, they are more disposed to go to extremes. If the father is Republican, the daughter and the wife are likely to be more strongly and unquestionably Republican. If the family is Democratic, the women are more wholeheartedly Democratic than the men. It's a familiar thing in religious and social matters, and why should it be expected to vary in political matters?

If women are "changeable," it is not where there is a cause or tradition to uphold. The labor unionist's wife is likely to be more unionist than her husband. In case of bitter strikes, the women are disposed to outdo their men in bitterness and violence.

In sizing up women as a political factor, this elemental truth ought to be recognized. A good woman is admittedly better than a good man, a bad woman worse than a bad man, a loyal woman more loyal than a loyal man. There may come a time when women in general develop a tendency to act together for what they regard as distinctly feminine ends—there may evolve a genuine "woman's party" or "woman's vote." But not until family life breaks down and human nature changes.—Riverside Press.

Santa Paula and especially Ventura County as a whole are to be congratulated on the enterprise of the Santa Paula Chronicle. Horace McPhee, the owner and editor of the Chronicle, has just issued a "Ventura County Opportunity Number" of his paper that is replete with information, beautifully illustrated, about the resources and advantages of Ventura County in general and Santa Paula in particular. Such a publication cannot fail to prove a big boost for the rich section of country it represents.

Years and years ago, in the county of Ulster, Ireland, a man conceived the idea of making an outer garment that would cover him from head to foot as a protection against cold.

He carried out his idea in a crude way, using heavy homespun woolsens. His neighbors liked the idea; they followed in his footsteps, and soon the "Ulster" was known to the world.

The coat was too cumbersome for live Americans, so it was modified. The new Ulster does away with extra weight and does not sacrifice warmth.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Spoiled Youngsters

Recently five girls were observed in that department of a store whither ladies go to powder their noses in seclusion. They were observed by a lady who told me about it.

The girls ranged in age from twelve to sixteen. They were dressed cheaply, rather shabbily, in fact, but with pitiful attempts to follow the mode. Each was rugged. There was carnation on the lips. The lids and lashes had been darkened. Each stood before a mirror, adding here and there a touch of color. They had all the sophistication of grownups. They postured and posed, watching the effect as an actress might with her stage make-up.

"Say," remarked one, "veh remember the girl that stuck a hat-pin into a fellow?"

"Uh-uh. What about her?"

"Why I seen her on the street just now an' she cut me cold."

Poor kids! Their mothers ought to see The Little Girl Next Door.

The Lights That Failed

Arrangements had been made variously for flashing the news of the presidential election results.

They flashed according to schedule, but the results came along later and declined to live up to the reputation that had been given them.

A Suspicious Age

When a city official was riding about in a flivver that didn't even have a self-starter, an observer expressed surprise.

"Say," said the official, "you don't know my constituents. I can buy a plain flivver and get away with it, but if I added even a self-starter they'd holler graff."

A Persistent Person

A lady who wrote that I should not have used the expression "an educated person" has experienced another stamp in advocacy of her belief. She asserts that the form should have been "one educated," which of course it should not.

Despite the fact that she is a lady and has the right both to her opinion and the foundation of it, she is a rather obstinate person. And "person" does not imply inferiority. She merely thinks it does.

Responsibility

In Chicago a woman arrested for burglary admits her guilt freely, and not without evidence of pride. She adds, however, "but I am a respectable woman."

It is a relief to learn this. A hasty conclusion might have been, exactly to the contrary.

Vindicated

There has been a shortage of soap in Cleveland. So pronounced was this that the country was informed that one Saturday night the residents were forced to omit the usual bath.

Doubtless the correspondent was misled by the belief that his own habits were common to the citizenry. It is a pleasure to state that there are men and women in Cleveland who would not hesitate to take a bath on other days than Saturday.

Billy Sunday's Vote

Billy Sunday forgot to register and so lost his chance to vote.

Not knowing Billy's politics it is impossible to express sympathy, for the loss may, in a small way, have been a public benefaction.

Voting Dead Men

Iowa counted the vote of a dead man, and the process was legal. He had filled out a ballot in advance of the election, as he was to be absent election day, and before the arrival of that day he had been killed by an accident.

The justly celebrated fashion of voting dead men, obtaining their addresses from moss-grown stones in the cemetry, has, it is believed, generally become obsolete, and bears no relation to this episode.

There are some who flop to the winning side.

In quest of pie when the counting stops.

This year in the usual way they tried. And got so tired they nearly died.

For they had to give some forty flops.

Drastic But Salutory

PLAY HOUSE COURTESIES, ETC.

On Friday night we accompanied our daughter to the high school street football rally, a school enthusiasm which but for one exception, on one or two occasions, carried with it perhaps nothing seriously objectionable. That feature, however, should not be passed unnoticed, for it seems to me that none of these young men who may have conceived the idea that this great big beautiful world of ours was framed for, or happens to be in existence for him alone, should so far forget the possible rights of others as to permit him to say to any old man on the street, although a foreigner, "You old bum, go home and go to bed." In passing, I am glad to say this is not the Santa Ana High School spirit, but the majority mind on matters of this kind can by its frown of disapproval stamp it so low that it must feel itself ostracized, and the individual feel himself alone.

All this by way of introduction. The play houses of the city courteously invited the students to their evening performances. What the others gave I know not, but where we were we were entertained in the first part by the silly ludicrous antics of Charlie Chaplin, good enough perhaps to divert the tired mind or body for a while from itself, but truly not very elevating.

But regarding the next reel I wondered if the censors had all died or had just gone to sleep, for it seems to me that to allow it to appear anywhere throws a serious accusation of lowering morals against Americans in general and playgoers in particular.

Beginning with the picture of a sensual cur in a counting house and portraying throughout his purposes and designs, even so plainly as throwing on the screen a note from him to an unfortunate young lady assistant or co-laborer whom he had been instrumental in having jailed because of the disappearance of some money in the house, and because she had rebuffed him. After her parole, the note: "Now, my pretty jail bird, if you don't leave the library window open for me, I'll squeal to the police." In spite of him she becomes the typist and finally the bride of a budding author whose mother to save her credit and further her son's hopes had stolen the wind-scattered bills lost from the counting house. The next reel is viler yet. An apparently happy young marriage, subsequent quarrels over "family or no family" entrance to the home of a low but well-dressed specimen of humanity; bitter quarrels; an ostensible visit by young wife to an aunt, who in reality is the low one but not a woman; divorce; quick remarriage of husband; babe in the home; a visit of wife No. 1 to a doctor's office where she is informed that nature must take its course, all in the presence of the low specimen who now begins to show up in his true nature; the final arrival of hospital scene, the babe, another note telling her to slip the babe to former husband as he is so fond of them; that done and final collapse and death of miserable woman.

In God's name and the name of decency, people of Santa Ana, is that what we turn our boys and girls 12 years old and under or over out alone to see—or is the home so far turned over to the school and the show that we think there is no use of trying—or don't we care?

It seems to me more of us should act wisely on the advice of Mohammed when he said to his follower as they stopped at the oasis for the night and his follower said, "Now I shall loose my beast and trust him to Allah." "Nay, my son, tie thy beast and trust him to Allah," answered the prophet.

CAN'T BE DONE? HUH!

The Register's editorial, Saturday, endorsing J. S. Smart's proposal that a $50,000 fund be raised for the purpose of securing manufacturing industries for Santa Ana, has drawn from a pessimistic reader the doleful declaration—"It can't be done."

Whether a thing can or cannot be done depends very much on "how bad we want to do it." Of course that isn't very good grammar; but when the kid tells you "how bad" he wants to go to the football game he generally gets the price.

How bad do we want to raise that $50,000?

As bad as Marconi wanted to invent the wireless?

As bad as Edison wanted to invent the phonograph?

It sounds silly to say a thing like raising that $50,000 can't be done.

Didn't President Wilson talk across mountains, seas and continents to the Emperor of China the other day?

Can't you sit in your office or your home and hear your friend's voice at the other end of the telephone line in New York? Yes, through the phonograph you can even hear his voice from the grave. Time and space have been annihilated.

Didn't a young woman of Chicago fly over six hundred miles yesterday without stopping?

Can't be done!

Perhaps it WON'T be done; but it CAN be done just as easy as rolling off a real round log.

THAT "WOMAN VOTE"

The enigma of the campaign, "the woman vote," has proved not to be an enigma at all. There simply was not any "woman vote." The "four million women," or whatever their number amounted to, voted just about like other citizens.

It cannot be said that the women cast their ballots precisely as the men did, but the differences were such that they evidently had practically no effect on the national result and little effect on local results. Instead of sex solidarity, there was family solidarity—naturally. When the men of a family generally vote the same ticket, why shouldn't the women, too?

Such differences as were revealed are interesting from a purely human standpoint. Certain observers have remarked with surprise that the women in Illinois and other new-suffrage states voted not only as the men did, but a little more so. That is, where the male vote went Republican, the female vote went still more Republican, and where the Democratic ticket got a majority of the men's votes it got a still greater majority of the women's votes. But why should there be any surprise about that?

Women are less disposed than men to break away from their family tradition. They are naturally more conservative and more given to following authority. Also, they are more disposed to go to extremes. If the father is Republican, the daughter and the wife are likely to be more strongly and unquestionably Republican. If the family is Democratic, the women are more wholeheartedly Democratic than the men. It's a familiar thing in religious and social matters, and why should it be expected to vary in political matters?

If women are "changeable," it is not where there is a cause or tradition to uphold. The labor unionist's wife is likely to be more unionist than her husband. In case of bitter strikes, the women are disposed to outdo their men in bitterness and violence.

In sizing up women as a political factor, this elemental truth ought to be recognized. A good woman is admittedly better than a good man, a bad woman worse than a bad man, a loyal woman more loyal than a loyal man. There may come a time when women in general develop a tendency to act together for what they regard as distinctly feminine ends—there may evolve a genuine "woman's party" or "woman's vote." But not until family life breaks down and human nature changes.—Riverside Press.

Santa Paula and especially Ventura County as a whole are to be congratulated on the enterprise of the Santa Paula Chronicle. Horace McPhee, the owner and editor of the Chronicle, has just issued a "Ventura County Opportunity Number" of his paper that is replete with information, beautifully illustrated, about the resources and advantages of Ventura County in general and Santa Paula in particular. Such a publication cannot fail to prove a big boost for the rich section of country it represents.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Spoiled Youngsters

Recently five girls were observed in that department of a store whither ladies go to powder their noses in seclusion. They were observed by a lady who told me about it.

The girls ranged in age from twelve to sixteen. They were dressed cheaply, rather shabbily, in fact, but with pitiful attempts to follow the mode. Each was rouged. There was carmine on the lips. The lids and lashes had been darkened. Each stood before the mirror, adding here and there a touch of color. They had all the sophistication of grownups. They postured and posed, watching the effect as an actress might with her stage make-up.

"Say," remarked one, "yeh remember the girl that stuck a hat-pin into a fellow?"

"Uh-uh. What about her?"

"Why I seen her on the street just now an' she cut me cold."

Poor kids! Their mothers ought to see The Little Girl Next Door.

The Lights That Failed

Arrangements had been made variously for flashing the news of the presidential election results.

They flashed according to schedule, but the results came along later and declined to live up to the reputation that had been given them.

A Suspicious Age

When a city official was riding about in a flivver that didn't even have a self-starter, an observer expressed surprise.

"Say," said the official, "you don't know my constituents. I can buy a plain flivver and get away with it, but if I added even a self-starter they'd holler graft."

A Persistent Person

A lady who wrote that "an educated person" has expressed another stamp in advocacy of her belief. She asserts that the form should have been "one educated," which of course it should not.

Despite the fact that she is a lady, and has the right both to her opinion and the foundation of it, she is a rather obstinate person. And "person" does not imply inferiority. She merely thinks it does.

Responsibility

In Chicago a woman arrested for burglary admits her guilt freely, and not without evidence of pride. She adds, however, "but I am a respectable woman."

It is a relief to learn this. A hasty conclusion might have been exactly to the contrary.

Vindicated

There has been a shortage of soap in Cleveland. So pronounced was this that the country was informed that one Saturday night the residents were forced to omit the usual bath.

Doubtless the correspondent was misled by the belief that his own habits were common to the citizenry. It is a pleasure to state that there are men and women in Cleveland who would not hesitate to take a bath on other days than Saturday.

Billy Sunday's Vote

Billy Sunday forgot to register and so lost his chance to vote. Not knowing Billy's politics it is impossible to express sympathy, for the loss may, in a small way, have been a public benefaction.

Voting Dead Men

Iowa counted the vote of a dead man, and the process was legal. He had filled out a ballot in advance of the election, as he was to be absent election day, and before the arrival of that day he had been killed by an accident.

The justly celebrated fashion of voting dead men, obtaining their addresses from moss-grown stones in the cem-

Years and years ago, in the county of Ulster, Ireland, a man conceived the idea of making an outer garment that would cover him from head to foot as a protection against cold.

He carried out his idea in a crude way, using heavy homespun woolsens. His neighbors liked the idea; they followed in his footsteps, and soon the "Ulster" was known to the world.

The coat was too cumbersome for live Americans, so it was modified. The new Ulster does away with extra weight and does not sacrifice warmth.

PLAY HOUSE COURTESIES, ETC.

On Friday night we accompanied our daughter to the high school street football rally, a school enthusiasm which but for one exception, on one or two occasions, carried with it perhaps nothing seriously objectionable. That feature, however, should not be passed unnoticed, for it seems to me that none of these young men who may have conceived the idea that this great big beautiful world of ours was framed for or happens to be in existence for him alone, should so far forget the possible rights of others as to permit him to say to any old man on the street, although a foreigner, "You old bum, go home and go to bed." In passing, I am glad to say this is not the Santa Ana High School spirit, but the majority mind on matters of this kind can by its frown of disapproval stamp it so low that it must feel itself ostracized, and the individual feel himself alone.

All this by way of introduction. The play houses of the city outeously invited the students to their evening performances. What the others gave I know not, but where we were we were entertained in the first part by the silly ludicrous antics of Charlie Chaplin, good enough perhaps to divert the tired mind or body for a while from itself, but truly not very elevating.

But regarding the next reel I wondered if the censors had all died or had just gone to sleep, for it seems to me that to allow it to appear anywhere throws a serious accusation of lowering morals against Americans in general and playgoers in particular.

Beginning with the picture of a sensual cur in a counting house and portraying throughout his purposes and designs, even so plainly as throwing on the screen a note from him to an unfortunate young lady assistant or co-laborer whom he had been instrumental in having jailed because of the disappearance of some money in the house, and because she had rebuffed him. After her parole, the note:

"Now, my pretty jail bird, if you don't leave the library window open for me, I'll squeal to the police." In spite of him she becomes the typist and finally the bride of a budding author whose mother to save her credit and further her son's hopes had stolen the wind-scattered bills lost from the counting house. The next reel is viler yet. An apparently happy young marriage, subsequent quarrels over "family or no family" entrance to the home of a low but well-dressed specimen of humanity; bitter quarrels; an ostensible visit by young wife to an aunt, who in reality is the low one but not a woman; divorce; quick remarriage of husband; babe in the home; a visit of wife No. 1 to a doctor's office where she is informed that nature must take its course, all in the presence of the low specimen who now begins to show up in his true nature; the final arrival of hospital scene, the babe, another note telling her to slip the babe to former husband as he is so fond of them; that done and final collapse and death of miserable woman.

In God's name and the name of decency, people of Santa Ana, is that what we turn our boys and girls 12 years old and under or over out alone to see—or is the home so far turned over to the school and the show that we think there is no use of trying—or don't we care?

It seems to me more of us should act wisely on the advice of Mohammed when he said to his follower as they stopped at the oasis for the night and his follower said, "Now I shall loose my beast and trust him to Allah." "Nay, my son, tie thy beast and trust him to Allah," answered the prophet.

Pasadena High Faculty Guests Of Santa Ana Poly Heads, Lose Nearly All Sets

Although Pasadena took home the laurels in Saturday's football game, the poly high faculty won some of them back in a friendly tennis tournament Saturday, when the Pasadena superintendent and faculty were guests of the heads of the school here.

The guests arrived at 10 o'clock and played tennis until 1:15, when a delicious luncheon was served in the domestic science department, under the supervision of Miss Grace Whited, head of the department.

As Pasadena's colors are the same as Santa Ana's, red and white were used for a motif. Holly and ferns adorned the room and the table, perfectly set, represented a miniature tennis field, with its net and crossed racquets tied with red tulle. The ghera was used for decorating the table and the place cards were daintily done by the art department of the school and bore tennis men and women. The appetizing menu, demonstrating practical work done by the students of the domestic science department, carried out the glowing color tints.

The waiting maidens were headed by Miss Bessie Bower, her assistants being Misses Vivian Newman, Hazel Pentecost, Grace Martin, Marguerite Tedford and Juanita Wright.

Covers were laid for the following: Pasadena, Supt. Jeremiah Rhodes, Mrs. Rhodes, Principal Jerome O. Cross, Mrs. Cross and little son Kent, Professors Batkin, Foster, Wilson, McDonald, Landreth, Newlin, Fall, Miss Flint; Santa Ana, Supt. J. A. Cranston, Mrs. Cranston, Principal E. H. McGeeva, Professors J. R. Baker, G. B. Kelly, Charles Deaver, D. K. Hammond, F. E. Chaffee and Prof. and Mrs. Clayton.

In the tournament, Santa Ana won all the sets with the exception of the one between the two superintendents and the two principals, which was won by Pasadena.

AT PARSONS HOME

Auction Bridge Luncheon Gives Delightful Afternoon Entertainment for Guests

Mrs. Fred Parsons was hostess on Saturday at a delightful auction bridge luncheon, the guests gathering at 1 o'clock at the home on South Main street. Yellow was the color scheme for the attractive decorations, the dainty four-course menu being served on seven small tables. Golden cosmos in crocheted baskets centered the tables and the place cards and menu carried out the tints.

Mrs. Parsons was assisted by Misses Hayes Fleming and Louise Barkhau. At the close of the series of auction bridge games, Mmes. J. P. Hatzfeld, Charles Kelley and Charles Spicer were found to be the claimants for the pretty trophies.

The guest list numbered: Mmes. H. T. Rutherford, H. D. Connell, C. V. Davis, John W. Tubbs, R. E. Miles, F. W. Fuller, W. F. Lutz, J. B. Roberts, A. W. Rutan, E. K. Gerhardt, J. L. Mrs. Clara Thompson of West Pine street gave a very pleasant birthday party for her little daughter, Joan, who reached the age of 7 years Saturday. Mrs. Thompson was assisted in making the children have a good time by an older daughter, Miss Vera Thompson.

After a period of jolly games, the children were served with dainty ice cream and birthday cake, the table being attractively decorated with pink rose buds. Miss Joan received a number of nice presents.

Those present were Marian Thompson of Riverside, Enid Twist, Mabel and Grace Robertson, Louise and Georgia Turner, Lois and Jean Winslow, Gladys Swarthout, Marian and Mary Bruner, Mary Elizabeth Saxton, Charlotte Brown, Adele Lindop of Dallas, Texas.

This series includes in addition to Bergson, such names as Maeterlinck, Poincaré, H. G. Wells, Eucken, George Bernard Shaw, John Dewey, John Burroughs, Chesterton, Shiller, and others. These names were grouped together by a writer in the New York Independent as leading representatives of the thought currents of today, each one giving some distinct message to this age.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., in her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."

Mr. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."

Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 15-year-old girl."

Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and up-building, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. English Hosts at Family Dinner at Their El Toro Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. English were hosts yesterday at an elaborate noon dinner in compliment to the birthdays of Mr. English, his mother, Mrs. R. H. English and his wife's mother, Mrs. S. J. Edwards.

Roast pig and roast turkey were served with all the other delicacies of the season, covers being laid at the hospitable board for thirty relatives.

Three big birthday cakes were provided and each honored guest received appreciated gifts to mark the day. Bright holly formed the house and table decorations and the day will long remain a pleasant memory in the hearts of those present.

Summer Shop Party

Miss Nelle Sumner, proprietor of the Ye Sumner Shop, one of the most pleasant places to visit and purchase the cleverest kinds of things so ingeniously exhibited and daintily fashioned, had a party over the past week end and received her enthusiastic guests to the number of 400.

Miss Sumner was charming in a quaint lace gown and picture hat and each guest was presented with a charming little sachet as a souvenir. Mrs. Clinton Kogler presided at the registry book.

One of the most pleasant features was the presence of Jean Allen and her "Bye-Bye" babies, the cutest of rag dolls, which are her own invention and for which she has various children pose for the desired effect.

Mrs. Allen tells the story of the origin of the dolls thusly: Her winsome little sister, Miss Helen Luce, of Long Beach, who was also present, was hard to suit in the matter of doll babies. She smashed up china and bisque as fast as she possibly could; she didn't like the smell of rubber babies; she broke the noses of celluloid dolls; and then cut her tongue in the hole; so in desperation the older sister made her a rag baby and lo! the problem was solved. Now, Mrs. Allen makes a business of making these darling babies so that all children can enjoy them.

Mrs. Allen is gifted in other ways also. She is an authoress, both of books for children and charming poems. She was a warm personal friend of James Whitcomb Riley. Miss Sumner always gives her friends a warm welcome and is always glad to show her pretty articles.

Surprised Their Friends

Miss Myrtle K. Mara, daughter of Mrs. Susie Mara, and John Murphy, who had planned to have a wedding at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. English, November 23, decided not to wait so long and slipped away at 4 o'clock Saturday to St. Joseph's Catholic Church, where they were joined in marriage by Rev. Father H. Eummelen, pastor of the church.

The bride wore a becoming suit of green with harmonizing accessories and carried a cluster of violets and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy went to San Diego on their wedding trip and after December 1 will be at home at 831 1/2 Minter street.

Mr. Murphy is in the employ of the R. R. Shafer Music Company and both young people have many friends here, who will wish them well on life's journey.

At the West End

A franchise for the showing of all the new Clara Kimball Young productions has been secured by Manager Schlesinger of the West End Theater. These pictures are all 7 to 10 reels in length and each is said to be a masterpiece of the highest type. The first, to be presented in Santa Ana very shortly, is "The Common Law" by Robert W. Chambers.

In this picture Clara Kimball Young will endeavor to prove what is said to be her claim of being one of the greatest living actresses on the screen today.

Blanche Sweet will be seen at the West End Theater tomorrow and Wednesday in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Storm," a thrilling Paramount drama written especially for her by Leighton Osmun, and produced for the Lasky Company by Frank Reicher.

Miss Sweet has been seen in many roles, but in "The Storm" she appears as a half wild, fun-loving daughter of a retired professor who is so submerged in his studies that he permits his daughter to run at will in the Maine summer resort where they live.

The majority of the scenes in this thrilling drama were taken in the mountains near an unfrequented lake in Bear Valley. The company was forced to go several hundred miles by train, nearly fifty miles by automobile and through part of the country they had to construct their own road. Here they camped for several weeks.

At Clune's

Romance and intrigue are the two big factors in successful photoplay reproduction.

When Harold Bell Wright's now famous novel, "The Eyes of the World," was offered to the reading public it was hailed as an ideal moving picture scenario. For most part the country's critics saw little literary genius displayed in the book, but all agreed that the romance and intrigue interwoven in the plot would make the most powerful cinema dramatization. The initial reproduction at Clune's yesterday of "The Eyes of the World" met with instantaneous approval. It was plainly discernible that an eager audience keenly anticipated seeing in picture "life" the invisible forms who charmed their imaginations in book form.

Among the characters most pleasing were Aaron King and Mrs. Taine. Conrad LaGrange also came in for his due share of public appreciation. The producers wasted little time introducing the characters, taking for granted that nearly everybody has read the "Eyes of the World."

The picture will be repeated to-night, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Pasadena High Faculty Guests Of Santa Ana Poly Heads, Lose Nearly All Sets

Although Pasadena took home the laurels in Saturday's football game, the poly high faculty won some of them back in a friendly tennis tournament Saturday, when the Pasadena superintendent and faculty were guests of the heads of the school here.

The guests arrived at 10 o'clock and played tennis until 1:15, when a delicious luncheon was served in the domestic science department, under the supervision of Miss Grace Whited, head of the department.

As Pasadena's colors are the same as Santa Ana's, red and white were used for a motif. Holly and ferns adorned the room and the table, perfectly set, represented a miniature tennis field, with its net and crossed rackets tied with red tulle. The garter was used for decorating the table and the place cards were daintily done by the art department of the school and bore tennis men and women. The appetizing menu, demonstrating practical work done by the students of the domestic science department, carried out the glowing color tints.

The waiting maidens were headed by Miss Bessie Bower, her assistants being Misses Vivian Newman, Hazel Pentecost, Grace Martin, Marguerite Tedford and Juanita Wright.

Covers were laid for the following: Pasadena, Supt. Jeremiah Rhodes, Mrs. Rhodes, Principal Jerome O. Cross, Mrs. Cross and little son Kent, Professors Batkin, Foster, Wilson, McDonald, Landreth, Newlin, Fall, Miss Flint, Santa Ana, Supt. J. A. Cranston, Mrs. Cranston, Principal E. H. McMath, Mrs. McMath and little daughter Geneva, Professors J. R. Baker, G. B. Kelly, Charles Deaver, D. K. Hammond, F. E. Chaffee and Prof. and Mrs. Clayton.

In the tournament, Santa Ana won all the sets with the exception of the one between the two superintendents and the two principals, which was won by Pasadena.

Return Production
"In the Palace of the Queen" will be staged at Campbell's Hall, Orange, Tuesday evening, Nov. 28, with most of the Santa Ana cast, which appeared here Nov. 10.

AT PARSONS HOME

Auction Bridge Luncheon Gives Delightful Afternoon Entertainment for Guests

Mrs. Fred Parsons was hostess on Saturday at a delightful auction bridge luncheon, the guests gathering at 1 o'clock at the home on South Main street. Yellow was the color scheme for the attractive decorations, the dainty four-course menu being served on seven small tables. Golden cosmos in crocheted baskets centered the tables and the place cards and menu carried out the tints.

Mrs. Parsons was assisted by Misses Hayes Fleming and Louise Barkhau. At the close of the series of auction bridge games, Misses J. P. Hatzfeld, Charles Kelley and Charles Spicer were found to be the claimants for the pretty trophies.

The guest list numbered: Misses H. T. Rutherford, H. D. Connell, C. V. Davis, John W. Tubbs, R. E. Miles, F. W. Fuller, W. F. Lutz, J. B. Roberts, A. W. Rutan, E. K. Gerhardt, J. I. After a period of jolly games, the children were served with dainty ice cream and birthday cake, the table being attractively decorated with pink rose buds. Miss Joan received a number of nice presents.

Those present were Marian Thompson of Riverside, Enid Twist, Mabel and Grace Robertson, Louise and Georgia Turner, Lois and Jean Winslow, Gladys Swarthout, Marian and Mary Bruner, Mary Elizabeth Saxton, Charlotte Brown, Adele Lindop of Dallas, Texas.

This series includes in addition to Bergson, such names as Maeterlinck, Poincaré, H. G. Wells, Eucken, George Bernard Shaw, John Dewey, John Burroughs, Chesterton, Shiller, and others. These names were grouped together by a writer in the New York Independent as leading representatives of the thought currents of today, each one giving some distinct message to this age.

Woman's Club Tomorrow
The Woman's Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Annie Gale on Spurgeon street.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., in her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."

Dr. Satter's "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."

Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 16-year-old girl."

Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and up-building, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.

THREE BIRTHDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. English Hosts at Family Dinner at Their El Toro Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. English were hosts yesterday at an elaborate noon dinner in compliment to the birthdays of Mr. English, his mother, Mrs. R. H. English and his wife's mother, Mrs. S. J. Edwards.

Roast pig and roast turkey were served with all the other delicacies of the season, covers being laid at the hospitable board for thirty relatives.

Three big birthday cakes were provided and each honored guest received appreciated gifts to mark the day. Bright holly formed the house and table decorations and the day will long remain a pleasant memory in the hearts of those present.

Summer Shop Party
Miss Nelle Sumner, proprietor of the Ye Summer Shoppe, one of the most pleasant places to visit and purchase the cleverest kinds of things so ingeniously exhibited and daintily fashioned, had a party over the past week end and received her enthusiastic guests to the number of 406.

Miss Sumner was charming in a quaint lace gown and picture hat and each guest was presented with a charming little sachet as a souvenir. Mrs. Clinton Kogler presided at the registry book.

One of the most pleasant features was the presence of Jean Allen and her "Bye-Bye" babies, the cutest of rag dolls, which are her own invention and for which she has various children pose for the desired effect.

Mrs. Allen tells the story of the origin of the dolls thusly: Her winsome little sister, Miss Helen Luce, of Long Beach, who was also present, was hard to suit in the matter of doll babies. She smashed up china and bisque as fast as she possibly could; she didn't like the smell of rubber babies; she broke the noses of celluloid dolls; and then cut her tongue in the hole; so in desperation the older sister made her a rag baby and lo! the problem was solved. Now Mrs. Allen makes a business of making these darling babies so that all children can enjoy them.

Mrs. Allen is gifted in other ways also. She is an authoress, both of books for children and charming poems. She was a warm personal friend of James Whitcomb Riley. Miss Sumner always gives her friends a warm welcome and is always glad to show her pretty articles.

Surprised Their Friends
Miss Myrtle K. Mara, daughter of Mrs. Susie Mara, and John Murphy, who had planned to have a wedding at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. English, November 23, decided not to wait so long and slipped away at 4 o'clock Saturday to St. Joseph's Catholic Church, where they were joined in marriage by Rev. Father H. Eummelen, pastor of the church.

The bride wore a becoming suit of green with harmonizing accessories and carried a cluster of violets and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy went to San Diego on their wedding trip and after December 1 will be at home at 831 1/2 Minter street.

Mr. Murphy is in the employ of the R. R. Shafer Music Company and both young people have many friends here, who wish them well on life's journey.

When Harold Bell Wright's now famous novel, the "Eyes of the World," was offered to the reading public, it was hailed as an ideal moving picture scenario. For most part the country's critics saw little literary genius displayed in the book, but all agreed that the romance and intrigue interwoven in the plot would make the most powerful cinema dramatization. The initial reproduction at Clune's yesterday of the "Eyes of the World" met with instantaneous approval. It was plainly discernible that an eager audience keenly anticipated seeing in picture "life" the invisible forms who charmed their imaginations in book form.

Among the characters most pleasing were Aaron King and Mrs. Taine. Conrad LaGrange also came in for his due share of public appreciation. The producers wasted little time introducing the characters, taking for granted that nearly everybody has read the "Eyes of the World."

The picture will be repeated tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening.

CHURCH BEGINS RAISING FUND FOR HALL

Methodist Young People Are Spurred On By Initial Offer of $500

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 17 — The Methodist young people have set to work in earnest to raise funds for a new hall. Thursday night a meeting was held at the church, the pastor acting as chairman, at which plans were discussed and much enthusiasm manifested. One of the members of the church has offered to give $500, to be paid in cash January 1, 1917, provided another five hundred has been raised by that time. The following persons were named as a committee to solicit this amount: Mr. and Mrs. James Haptonstall, Miss Lizzie Gotherd, A. B. Crane and Lorin Maddux.

AN-URIC!

The Newest Discovery in Chemistry.

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "An-uric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear. Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "An-uric" manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or even write Dr. Pierce for a free sample. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Dr. Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you without fee or charge.

NOTE—"An-uric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "An-uric" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

A GREAT OFFER
If you will cut this out and send 3 dimes to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., you will receive a 1,000-page book, bound in handsome cloth, fully illustrated, all charges prepaid.

There will be rest rooms, cloak rooms, a kitchen, in fact, a place for all the social activities connected with church and community life. The smaller rooms will be used as class rooms for the Sunday School, relieving conditions that now are caused by inadequate facilities for teaching the children. The hall will be a social center for the neighborhood, and fill a great need in a town of this size.

GIRL 'AIR BUBBLE' DEATH CASE SIFTED

Alleged Murder of Elizabeth Radcliffe Probed By Grand Jury

OLNEY, Ill., Nov. 20.—The now famous "air bubble" death of Miss Elizabeth Radcliffe, seventeen and pretty, for which Roy Hinterliter is in jail here on a charge of murder, will receive the attention of the Grand Jury which convened here today.

At the trial the state will seek to prove that Hinterliter, a young farmer, pumped air into Miss Radcliffe's veins and that a bubble of air reached her heart and killed her. An air bubble in her heart was the cause of her death, according to a commission of physicians which examined the body.

Hinterliter, the body of the girl across his knees, drove madly up to a sanitarium at midnight July 21 and begged attendants to revive her. He said she had fallen unconscious in his arms as they were driving along a dark road. She was dead.

Search revealed parts of instruments beneath a towering oak, in a stream bed and slightly off the main traveled road. Footprints showed signs that a struggle had taken place.

The authorities insist they can prove Roy and Elizabeth were beneath the tree the evening of July 21 and will attempt to prove that the young farmer induced the girl to let him pump air into her veins.

The strangeness of the girl's death has aroused much comment among noted physicians, some of whom have taken issue with the finding of the commission, holding that the air bubble could not have caused the death. The state refuses to go into the details of its case but promises startling disclosures. Hinterliter, arrested July 22, is held in jail without bail. He insists he is innocent.

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

NOXIOUS WEEDS TO BE FOUGHT TO FINISH

Ranchers In Lowlands Section to Move on the Morning Glory

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 20.—Ranchers living in the vicinity of Talbert and Wintersburg have taken up the matter of destroying the noxious weeds on the land and it is expected that one or more districts will be formed for the purpose of carrying forward this work. The weeds which have proved most annoying for the last year or so are the morning glories which many of the farmers who came from the Middle West have fought for years with but little success.

The morning glory produces an almost unlimited quantity of seed but is dependent not only on the seed for the roots live over winter while dormant and extend three or four feet into the ground so that it is almost impossible to eradicate them. Two or three methods are suggested for their treatment. One of these is the use of carbon bisulphide as a spray. This burns the leaves and if sprayed in solution not too strong the asmosis through the cell walls carries the poison into the roots and gradually destroys them. If the solution is too strong the cells break down and this osmosis does not take place. Another method of destroying the morning glory is by the use of salt, preferably in solution. This also injures the productivity of the ground and is therefore not advisable. The third method is the use of weed knives, cutting the plants off beneath the surface every four days during the sprouting season. If this is kept up for a few weeks and later followed with similar treatment once a week it will gradually result in the destruction of the pest for even the roots can not live permanently unless the plant is growing above the ground.

This method of the weed knife is more trouble for the time but as it does not injure the productivity of the soil it is considered the safest and best.

The Canada thistle and the wild lettuce are also receiving attention. Deputy Horticultural Commissioner G. W. Wardell will go over the ground included in the district, make a record of the patches of noxious weeds and the owners of the land will be held responsible for the destruction of the weeds if the present plans of the growers are carried out. It is probable that meetings will be arranged in other sections and a united effort made to get rid of these and other noxious weeds.

The Junior Play

The Junior play of the High School will be given Friday evening at the High School auditorium. The play is Esmeralda and is to be staged under the directorship of Miss Mary Agnes Clark.

The High School basketball team played its first game away from home with Pasadena High School Thursday afternoon and lost by a score of 48 to 26. There are several new members of the team this year and the team work has not been perfected.

During the month of October 28,604 pieces of mail were handled by the local postoffice. This is an extremely large amount for this office and its volume is due largely to campaign literature.

The Regulars won from the All-Stars in the bowling match last week by the score of 2480 to 2336.

M. E. Helme, president of the Board of Trustees of the city, has recently sold his wheat crop of a thousand bushels in Adams county, Washington, at the rate of $1.55 per bushel. Mr. Helme has a ranch of 1120 acres in that county and this year 400 acres were in wheat. In 1893 the wheat brought 20 cents per bushel.

The Parent-Teachers' Association meets Tuesday evening of this week. An entertainment will be given by the seventh grade.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Friday was twenty-five years since Mr. and Mrs. M. Eltiste decided to take life's journey together and became man and wife.

About 7:30 in the evening members of the Erholungstunde, of which Mrs. Eltiste is also a member, gathered at the near corners, and the tables entered the Eltiste home by various doors and sprung a surprise. Mr. Eltiste, who was uptown, was called home by one of his sons, on a pretense that some men were waiting for him.

The evening was very pleasantly spent and all hope that in another twenty-five years they could all do it over. Present at the occasion were Messrs. and Mesdames Eltiste, F. W. Grumm, John Eltiste, W. Batterman, John Blank, Otto Loesch, R. L. Precht, E. K. Weiss, Christ Wagner, William Priess, C. G. Jora, Emil Loesch, Mrs. A. The P. T. A. of Villa Park met Friday afternoon at the school house. The primary room began the program with a song, the pupils from both rooms gave a play, "The First Thanksgiving" including both the pilgrims and Indians, this being so well acted as to take all thoughts back to the old historical study.

After a short business session Mrs. G. H. Goodale of Anaheim, president of the Orange County District of P.T. associations, also of the Mothers' Congress, was introduced and delivered an able and instructive address on the relationship of the P.T. associations. After a most cordial invitation the association joined the Orange County District of the federation.

One of the most delightful social gatherings of the year was held when the Friday Afternoon Embroidery Club met for an all-day meeting with Mrs. Eugene Elson at Olive.

FIRST DEBATES OF LEAGUE BE WEDNESDAY

Santa Ana Speakers Are to Meet Huntington Beach and Fullerton

High school debating teams of Orange county will contest next Wednesday in the first debate of the State interscholastic League. The question for debate is:

"Resolved, That all members of legislative bodies of California municipalities shall be elected on a basis of proportional representation."

Santa Ana will receive a team from Fullerton, Tom Robertson, president of the Poly high student body, and Miss Alverda West will uphold the affirmative and Verno Hill and Homer Sprague will go to Huntington Beach to support the negative of the question. The beach speakers are Miss Glenna Wright and Luverne Collins. # MONEY BARONS SEEK TO CURB GOLD RUSH

Bankers Wrestle With Problem of War Time Prosperity Influx

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Twelve big bankers, representing financial America in their capacity as members of the Advisory Council of the Federal Reserve Board, met today with the board to discuss, among other things, means of controlling the huge flood of gold that has swept into the United States with the tide of war-time prosperity.

J. P. Morgan heads the list. He represents the New York district. Daniel G. Ring represents Boston, Levi L. Rue, Philadelphia; W. S. Rowe, Cleveland; J. W. Norwood, Richmond; Charles A. Lyster, Atlanta; J. B. Forgan, Chicago; Frank O. Watts, St. Louis; C. T. Jaffrey, Minneapolis; E. F. Swinney, Kansas City; Herbert Fleishacker, San Francisco, and T. J. Record, Dallas.

Opinions as to what to do with the gold differ sharply. They range from the desire on the part of some bankers to get rid of it, to a belief by others that most of the gold can be absorbed in this country without leading to undue speculation.

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Santa Ana Reader

The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical. Santa Ana residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete. Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

F. Fraser, 1642 Regent street, Santa Ana, says: "I suffered from attacks of pain in my back and too frequent action of my kidneys, especially at night, when my rest was broken. My condition was considerably worse when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me and I have been free from kidney complaint for the past three years." (Statement given March 8, 1907.)

On February 9, 1916, Mr. Fraser said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to give me the best of satisfaction and I recommend them to all my friends."

and get a clear vision of the possibilities of Fruit and Nut growing without irrigation in the Templeton-Paso Robles district—a swell place for a home—money making opportunities undreamed of a few years back, a combination of desirable conditions possessed by no other locality in the state, these are reasons why so many men from Orange county and other Southern California points are investing there.

There will be rest rooms, cloak rooms, a kitchen, in fact, a place for all the social activities connected with church and community life. The smaller rooms will be used as class rooms for the Sunday School, relieving conditions that now are caused by inadequate facilities for teaching the children. The hall will be a social center for the neighborhood, and fill a great need in a town of this size.

GIRL 'AIR BUBBLE' DEATH CASE SIFTED

Alleged Murder of Elizabeth
Radcliffe Probed By Grand Jury

OLNEY, Ill., Nov. 20.—The now famous "air bubble" death of Miss Elizabeth Radcliffe, seventeen and pretty, for which Roy Hinterliter is in jail here on a charge of murder, will receive the attention of the Grand Jury which convened here today.

At the trial the state will seek to prove that Hinterliter, a young farmer, pumped air into Miss Radcliffe's veins and that a bubble of air reached her heart and killed her. An air bubble in her heart was the cause of her death, according to a commission of physicians which examined the body.

Hinterliter, the body of the girl across his knees, drove madly up to a sanitarium at midnight July 21 and begged attendants to revive her. He said she had fallen unconscious in his arms as they were driving along a dark road. She was dead.

Search revealed parts of instruments beneath a towering oak, in a stream bed and slightly off the main traveled road. Footprints showed signs that a struggle had taken place. The authorities insist they can prove Roy and Elizabeth were beneath the tree the evening of July 21 and will attempt to prove that the young farmer induced the girl to let him pump air into her veins.

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

NOXIOUS WEEDS TO BE FOUGHT TO FINISH

Ranchers In Lowlands Section to Move on the Morning Glory

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 20.—Ranchers living in the vicinity of Talbert and Wintersburg have taken up the matter of destroying the noxious weeds on the land and it is expected that one or more districts will be formed for the purpose of carrying forward this work. The weeds which have proved most annoying for the last year or so are the morning glories which many of the farmers who came from the Middle West have fought for years with but little success.

The morning glory produces an almost unlimited quantity of seed but is dependent not only on the seed for the roots live over winter while dormant and extend three or four feet into the ground so that it is almost impossible to eradicate them. Two or three methods are suggested for their treatment. One of these is the use of carbon bisulphide as a spray. This burns the leaves and if sprayed in solution not too strong the asmosis through the cell walls carries the poison into the roots and gradually destroys them. If the solution is too strong the cells break down and the asmosis does not take place. Another method of destroying the morning glory is by the use of salt, preferably in solution. This also injures the productivity of the ground and is therefore not advisable. The third method is the use of weed knives, cutting the plants off beneath the surface every four days during the sprouting season. If this is kept up for a few weeks and later followed with similar treatment once a week it will gradually result in the destruction of the pest for even the roots can not live permanently unless the plant is growing above the ground.

This method of the weed knife is more trouble for the time but as it does not injure the productivity of the soil it is considered the safest and best.

The Canada thistle and the wild lettuce are also receiving attention. Deputy Horticultural Commissioner G. W. Wardell will go over the ground included in the district, make a record of the patches of noxious weeds and the owners of the land will be held responsible for the destruction of the weeds if the present plans of the growers are carried out. It is probable that meetings will be arranged in other sections and a united effort made to get rid of these and other noxious weeds.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Friday was twenty-five years since Mr. and Mrs. M. Eltiste decided to take life's journey together and became man and wife.

About 7:30 in the evening members of the Erlingstunde, of which Mrs. Eltiste is also a member, gathered at the near corners, and accompanied by their husbands, and the eatables entered the Eltiste home by various doors and sprung a surprise. Mr. Eltiste, who was uptown, was called home by one of his sons, on a pretense that some men were waiting for him. The evening was very pleasantly spent and all hope that in another twenty-five years they could all do it over. Present at the occasion were Messrs. and Mesdames Eltiste, F. W. Grumm, John Eltiste, W. Batterman, John Blank, Otto Loescher, R. L. Precht, E. K. Weiss, Christ Wagner, William Priess, C. G. Jern, Emil Loescher; Mrs. A. The P. T. A. of Villa Park met Friday afternoon at the school house. The primary room began the program with a song, the pupils from both rooms gave a play, "The First Thanksgiving," including both the Pilgrims and Indians, this being so well acted as to take all thoughts back to the old historical study.

After a short business session Mrs. G. H. Goodale of Anaheim, president of the Orange County District of P. T. associations, also of the Mothers' Congress, was introduced and delivered an able and instructive address on the relationship of the P. T. associations. After a most cordial invitation the association joined the Orange County District of the federation.

FIRST DEBATES OF LEAGUE BE WEDNESDAY

Santa Ana Speakers Are to Meet Huntington Beach

High school debating teams of Orange county will contest next Wednesday in the first debate of the State interscholastic League. The question for debate is:

"Resolved, That all members of legislative bodies of California municipalities shall be elected on a basis of proportional representation."

Santa Ana will receive a team from Fullerton, Tom Robertson, president of the Poly high student body, and Miss Alverda West will uphold the affirmative and Verne Hill and Homer Sprague will go to Huntington Beach to support the negative of the question. The beach speakers are Miss Glenna Wright and Luverne Collins. The place of meeting here has not yet been settled, as the debate will take place at the morning assembly and the student body has not as yet settled upon a meeting place.

MONEY BARONS SEEK TO CURB GOLD RUSH

Bankers Wrestle With Problem of War Time Prosperity Influx

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Twelve big bankers, representing financial America in their capacity as members of the Advisory Council of the Federal Reserve Board, met today with the board to discuss, among other things, means of controlling the huge flood of gold that has swept into the United States with the tide of war-time prosperity.

J. P. Morgan heads the list. He represents the New York district. Daniel G. Rue represents Boston, Levi L. Rue, Philadelphia; W. S. Rowe, Cleveland; J. W. Norwood, Richmond; Charles A. Lyerly, Atlanta; J. B. Forgan, Chicago; Frank O. Watts, St. Louis; C. T. Jeffrey, Minneapolis; E. P. Swinney, Kansas City; Herbert Fleishacker, San Francisco, and T. J. Record, Dallas.

Opinions as to what to do with the gold differ sharply. They range from the desire on the part of some bankers to get rid of it, to a belief by others that most of the gold can be absorbed in this country without leading to undue speculation.

A THOROUGH TEST

One to Convince the Most Skeptical
Santa Ana Reader

The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical.

Santa Ana residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

F. Fraser, 1642 Regent street, Santa Ana, says: "I suffered from attacks of pain in my back and too frequent action of my kidneys, especially at night, when my rest was broken. My condition was considerably worse when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me and I have been free from kidney complaint for the past three years." (Statement given March 8, 1907.)

On February 9, 1916, Mr. Fraser said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to give me the best of satisfaction and I recommend them to all my friends."

Tomorrow Occurs the Trial of George McPhee's Damage
Suit For Auto Smash

Next Monday morning the 1916
grand jury will be selected in Judge
Thompson's court, and its investigations will then begin.

On January 3, 1916, thirty-five names were selected by Judges Thomas and West, and from that thirty-five there will be chosen nineteen to serve as grand jurors. This morning Judge Thomas issued an order that thirty of those whose names were selected last January appear in his court next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.
One of the men, J. W. King, has died

McPhee vs. Lavin
Tomorrow Judge West will try the suit for $1500 damages brought by County Sealer George McPhee against
J. D. Lavin, a rancher of Anaheim.
On July 26 McPhee's automobile was struck by Lavin's, and was overturned. McPhee was pinned beneath the machine, escaping with his life by the narrowest margin. It is understood that Lavin is protected with an insurance policy, and that it is the insurance company, represented by Attorney R. P. Jennings of Los Angeles, that is putting up the fight. McPhee will be represented at the trial by Attorneys Williams & Rutan.

W. Folsom to Jacob Hergikopf.

Interlocutory Decree
An interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted by Judge West to Marie L. Swopsher against Jesse F.
Swopsher. The couple married in Flat River, Mo., in 1911.
